

Special Concessionary Offer for Those Temporarily Not Working CFP^{CM} Certificants

IFPHK is well aware that the past difficult few months have seen some members becoming not actively employed. IFPHK is committed to helping these members to be part of our growing body of professionals and values their past contributions and support. As such, we are introducing a concessionary offer that maintains the 2010 re-certification fee at HK$1,500.

To be eligible for this arrangement, please note the following:

1. You need to submit evidence of unemployment during the time of renewal, such as termination letters issued after 1 January 2009 or statutory declaration of unemployment at the District Offices of Home Affairs Department.
2. Complete and submit a special CFP Certification Renewal Application Form for temporarily not working CFP certificants (click here for the form).

Please note that IFPHK has the final decision in determining the eligibility of an application for this special concession.
